BIOGRAPHY

Graeme Stewart is a Golden Reel award nominated music editor with credits spanning film, television, and records.

Graeme has worked on 3 Oscar, 3 BAFTA and 2 Grammy nominated scores, including 'Poor Things' scored by Jerskin Fendrix, and two Jonny Greenwood scores for 'The Power of the Dog' and 'Phantom Thread'.

Other recent credits include Yorgos Lanthimos's 'Kinds of Kindness', Gareth Edwards' 'The Creator' scored by Hans Zimmer, Searchlight Pictures' 'All of Us Strangers' starring Andrew Scott, and Netflix series 'Man Vs. Bee' scored by Lorne Balfe.

Graeme's career spans 3 decades. After finishing his Music degree and Liverpool University, he began working at RAK Studios, London before becoming a freelance engineer. Between 2000 and 2010 Graeme was the studio engineer for the world-famous Radiohead, and engineered sessions for the albums Kid A and Amnesiac before spending a year with the band on preproduction for In Rainbows.
